WEED ORDERS:

The Noxious Weeds Act is set out to provide a certain protection to the Agricultural Industry of Alberta. Also to protect a weed conscious farmer from his neighbor who is less weed-conscious and may negligently permit his weed seeds to spread onto neighboring lands. When an inspector issues an order to destroy certain weeds on a certain piece of land as designated in the notice, the party receiving the notice is by law required to carry out such orders. The Act also provides penalties for anybody in default of the Weed Act, being section 55 which reads as follows: "Every person who makes default in complying with any of the lawful requirements set out in any notice given by an inspector pursuant to this Act shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty of not less than five dollars and not more than fifty dollars together with costs, or in default of payment to a period of imprisonment of not more than thirty days."

I found it necessary this season to take action against one farmer in the MD of Wainwright. He was convicted and fined $200.00 and court costs amounting to $8.00 for refusing to carry out an order imposed upon him by myself. In the future, any farmer refusing to act upon an official notice in my district will be dealt with in the same manner.

FILM CIRCUIT:

A meeting of representatives from communities receiving film showings last winter is to be held in Wainwright, Saturday, Oct. 14 at 1:30 p.m. in the Town Hall. Anybody wishing to attend besides the chosen representatives will be welcome. The more who attend the better to live up to the discussions. Mr. Bell of the National Film Bd. will be in attendance to discuss their side of the picture, and also to offer a much more satisfactory system of circulating films in the district than previous. Your support in assisting us to provide a more permanent educational and social program among the rural folk will be appreciated. To some rural families the National Film Board showings are the only means of social activities they have.

Shortage Of Engineers

A GREAT DEAL IS HEARD regarding the development of Canada's natural resources and of the importance of these resources to the economic future of the country. The fact that there are rich iron deposits, other valuable minerals, and new oil fields in Canada at a time when supplies of these vital materials in the United States and abroad are becoming depleted, has been of importance to other countries as well as to ourselves. There are many factors involved in developing and maintaining extensive mining operations. Capital is a primary necessity, but trained workers, including mining engineers are also essential to the successful operation of any project.

Are Essential To Industry

Trained engineers are needed now in considerable numbers for mining, which is one of the four largest industries in Canada today from the point of view of production. There has, however, been considerable concern in recent years over a decline in the number of engineers who are graduating from Canadian universities in the face of the growing need for men with such training, and it is estimated that in the next few years there may be less than half enough engineers to meet the requirements of the mining industry here. At present fifteen per cent. of the mining engineers working for Canadian companies are from the United Kingdom, seven per cent. from the United States and three per cent. from other countries.

Small Number Now Enrolled

Reports from Canadian universities show that the students enrolled in mining engineering make up only about four per cent. of the total enrollment in engineering in the classes which will be graduating in 1951, and that the numbers will be even less for the classes of 1952 and 1953. The Engineering Institute of Canada and other interested groups are contacting first year engineering students in Canadian universities with the object of interesting them in mining and the technical personnel division of the Federal Department of Labor is assisting in this matter by directing engineering students to summer work in mining projects. It has been suggested that mining companies might also encourage engineering students to enter that branch of their profession by granting special financial help to those specializing in mining. It is to be hoped that the supply of mining engineers will eventually be sufficient to meet the growing needs of Canadian mining companies.

This hand was played at six tables in a Saturday individual contest. In one case it was thrown out, but at the other tables North opened One Heart after two passes in the hope of making a part score or indicating a favourable defensive lead. The fate of the hand depended on South's response.

In two cases he gave the only natural, and safe response—One No-Trump—which was passed out. West led ♠ 2, presenting South with four tricks in the suit, and the subsequent defence allowed declarer to make nine tricks for top score. At the remaining tables South considered his hand too strong for a "negative" No-Trump; one bid Two Diamonds, the other Two Clubs, which became the final and painful contracts.

Man, Woman Has Unusual Hobby

MINNEDOSA, Man.—The village of Newdale, 20 miles west of here, boasts a woman with an unusual hobby. Mrs. Morris Lavery is a gardener—but not the usual kind. She grows citrus fruits.

Mrs. Lavery's tropical garden consists of a four-foot orange tree which has so far produced two ripe, rich oranges, and a lemon tree which last year bore a gigantic lemon 11 inches in circumference.

She also had a grapefruit tree which grew so vigorously that she planted it outside. Fall frost destroyed it.

The first woman printer in the U.S. was Dinah Nuthall, who worked in Annapolis, Md., in 1696.

Clay Deposit Being Tested For Healing

VANCOUVER.—A British Columbia clay deposit is being tested for healing properties already heralded as without "parallel in the world today".

Dr. Ernst A. Hauser, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, says a deposit about 280 miles up coast from here is valuable for healing cuts, burns and wounds. He says it is also helpful in the treatment of arthritis.

"I am perfectly prepared to put my reputation as an international scientist at stake in saying that this product is unique in every way," he recently told a business men's meeting.

The clay has been marketed recently. The deposit is located on King Island, below Prince Rupert. Further investigations of its properties are under way.

Income Of Farmers Show Sharp Drop

OTTAWA.—Canadian farmers got higher prices for wheat and livestock in the first half of 1950, but the amount of cash income they earned in that period was sharply below the cash they got in the first half of 1949.

The bureau of statistics has reported that cash income from the sale of farm products totalled $870,516,000 in the 1950 period—a drop of 18.6 per cent. from the $1,068,405,000 earned the previous year, and 5.9 per cent. below the $925,008,000 earned in the six months of 1949.

Most of the reduction had nothing to do with prices. The bigger income in the 1949 period was due to the fact that the government then announced a 20-cent-a-bushel increase in the price it was paying for western wheat delivered to the Canadian wheat board. The payment, sending the initial wheat price from $1.55 to $1.75, covered all wheat delivered to the board since 1945.

Thus, a farmer who had been delivering steadily to the board since 1945 got unusually heavy payments during the first half of 1949. He received his normal payments during the first half of 1950.

The bureau said cash income from the sale of wheat in 1950 was up as a result of both higher initial prices and increased marketings. Smaller markets and lower initial prices reduced income from coarse grains.

With the exception of hogs, income from livestock was higher. Cash income from this source totalled $389,400,000, an increase of 10.4 per cent. over the 1949 figure of $352,800,000. Dairy products income, estimated at $153,700,000, was seven per cent. below the 1949 total of $165,000,000. Some of the decline was attributed to lower prices for eggs.

Because of the smaller payments made to western wheat farmers in the 1950 period, the prairie bore most of the cash-income decline.

The bureau said in the case of Saskatchewan, the drop in income amounted to almost 50 per cent., in Manitoba 44 per cent. and, in Alberta, 33 per cent.
